WASHINGTON NATIONALS COMMUNITY RELATIONS

The Washington Nationals are committed to enhancing the quality of life for citizens in the Washington, D.C. region. Our primary focus is on initiatives that honor military families, encourage youth participation in baseball and softball, and support the education of our community.

In 2012, Nationals players, coaches, mascots and front office staff participated in various appearances and activities within the community and during special events at Nationals Park.

More than 130,000 Nationals tickets were distributed to area youth, military and nonprofit groups throughout the season. Additionally, more than $420,000 in autographed memorabilia and experience packages were donated to benefit more than 1,300 D.C.-area charities and nonprofits.

In response to the unique circumstances presented by Superstorm Sandy, Community Relations worked with infielder Steve Lombardozzi, Jr. and his father, 1987 World Series champion Steve Lombardozzi, Sr., to collect and distribute storm relief donations. Nearly 28,000 pounds of food and personal items were delivered to the Community Food Bank of New Jersey to further aid the relief and recovery efforts along the East Coast.

MILITARY INITIATIVES

As the home of the national pastime in the Nation's Capital, the Nationals are proud to work with the large community of military bases, installations and hospitals that serve as permanent or temporary homes to more than 500,000 military service members and their families living in the Washington Metropolitan area.

USO of Metropolitan Washington honored the team with the Legacy of Hope Award during their 2012 Awards Gala in recognition of these efforts, which include the following programs:

IN-GAME MILITARY SALUTE

The Nationals offer premium seating in the Lexus Presidents Club for wounded veterans and their families during every home game. The tickets include a gourmet buffet, complimentary in-seat food and beverage service and views of the underground batting cages and post-game press conference.

At the end of the third inning, honorees are recognized on NatsHD and receive a standing ovation from fans. On occasion, military leadership, as well as numerous politicians, Supreme Court Justices and celebrities request to honor wounded service members by taking part in the salute.

ME AND A FRIEND PROGRAM

In partnership with USO of Metropolitan Washington, this program recognizes the challenges that military children face as they continually relocate due to their parents' military assignments. The Nationals provide tickets to children of active duty service members for every Sunday game of the season, giving them the opportunity to use the free tickets to connect with peers and help make new friends. The group is also first in line for Kids Run the Bases after the game.

WOUNDED WARRIOR AMPUTEE SOFTBALL TEAM (WWAST)

WWAST is comprised of veterans and active duty service members from across the United States, each of whom have lost limbs while serving our country. They travel around the country competing against only able-bodied opponents.

The WWAST visits with minor league and major league Nationals players in Florida during Spring Training and has taken part in the Wounded Warrior Amputee Celebrity Softball Classic at Nationals Park.

TEAM VISITS TO MILITARY HOSPITALS

Since 2005, the Nationals have regularly visited wounded service members and their families at a number of military hospitals in the region and the team will continue this tradition at what is now known as Walter Reed National Military Medical Center in Bethesda, Md.

DISCOUNTED GAME TICKETS

Military service members receive deeply discounted Nationals tickets available exclusively to them and their families. Tickets can be purchased through MWR and ITT offices at area bases and the Pentagon. Most ticket levels also include a food and beverage credit to reduce the total cost of the outing.

YOUTH BASEBALL & SOFTBALL

The Nationals are committed to promoting youth baseball and softball throughout the National Capital region. Beyond sponsoring youth baseball leagues and hosting clinics at Nationals Park, Community Relations coordinates player visits to local baseball camps and organizes special events, both at Nationals Park and in the local community.

WASHINGTON NATIONALS ROOKIE LEAGUE

For the third consecutive season, the Nationals will sponsor the Washington Nationals Rookie League in partnership with D.C. Department of Parks and Recreation. This tee-ball league is open to children ages 4 through 6 who live in areas of the District that do not otherwise offer the opportunity to enjoy the game of baseball. The Nationals provide uniforms and tickets for all participants.

MEDSTAR HEALTH YOUTH BASEBALL CLINICS

The Nationals will host a series of youth clinics as part of the team's efforts to increase participation and interest in baseball and softball programs around the D.C. region. Nationals' players and coaches will work with local youth baseball coaches in presenting clinics to children ages eight through 17. Clinics are free of charge and include on-field instruction as well as four tickets to a Nationals home game.

D.C. HIGH SCHOOL INITIATIVE

For the fifth consecutive year, the Nationals will invite each District of Columbia Public High School baseball team to host one, two-hour practice on the field at Nationals Park at no cost to the school. The team works with coaches from each team to create a fun experience for local student-athletes, inspiring them to continue playing baseball and providing a unique opportunity to play at a Major League ballpark. Additionally, the team will host D.C. High School Night and give tickets to students and faculty at all District of Columbia Public High Schools so that they can enjoy a night at the ballpark.

BASEBALL EQUIPMENT DRIVE

The Nationals will collect new or gently used baseball and softball equipment as part of the annual Baseball Equipment Drive, hosted in conjunction with the Baseball Tomorrow Fund, which will provide a local youth organization a $5,000 grant to purchase new equipment.

HEALTH AND GOODWILL

The Nationals will continue to work with nonprofit organizations to increase awareness for their causes. Throughout the season, a variety of organizations are given the opportunity to distribute materials about their mission, services, research, events and fundraising during Nationals home games at the Community Clubhouse. They are also encouraged to fundraise through ticket sales and may run public service announcements (PSAs) before games at Nationals Park.

TICKET PROGRAMS

Each season, Community Relations donates tickets to area nonprofits, schools, military organizations and youth groups through programs like the Commissioner's Community Initiative and UMPS Care Charities.

Season plan holders are also encouraged to donate their unused tickets through their "My Nationals" account to Most Valuable Kids, Inc. which offers local children's organizations access to professional sports events.

EVERYBODY WINS! DC

The Nationals will continue their partnership with Everybody Wins! DC (EWDC), the largest children's literacy and mentoring organization in the metropolitan area. Front office staff members volunteer their time to serve as reading mentors for students at Amidon-Bowen Elementary School as part of the Power Lunch Program.

FOOD & FRIENDS

Every November, members of the Nationals front office staff team up with Food & Friends volunteers to prepare Thanksgiving meals for those with life-challenging illnesses.

PLAY SUN SMART SKIN CANCER SCREENINGS

As part of a joint effort between the Nationals, MLB, the MLBPA and the American Academy of Dermatology, the team will once again offer skin cancer screenings for players and staff.

BLOOD DRIVES

The Nationals will team up with Inova Health System to host two blood drives during the 2013 season. Fans who help save a life by donating blood will receive two tickets to a Nationals home game as well as opportunities to take a behind-the-scenes tour of Nationals Park and win autographed memorabilia.

HARRIS TEETER FOOD DRIVE

The Nationals will collect non-perishable food items for the annual Harris Teeter Food Drive outside Center Field Gates. All items collected will benefit the Capital Area Food Bank, which distributes 20 million pounds of food to more than 700 partner agencies each year. In coordination with the drive, Nationals players and their spouses visit the Capital Area Food Bank to assist with their Weekend Bag program.

NATIONALS TOY DRIVE

Fans may donate new, unwrapped toys when the Nationals host the annual Holiday Toy Drive outside Center Field Gates. The toys collected will be distributed to nonprofit organizations and hospital pediatric wards in the D.C. area by the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve and the Toys For Tots Foundation during the holidays.

BACK TO SCHOOL DRIVE

The Nationals will again host a Back-to-School Drive in 2013. Teachers from D.C. Public Schools will help promote the drive and organize collection sites for new school supplies outside Center Field Gate.

THE LERNER FAMILY – PRINCIPAL OWNERS

Theodore N. Lerner, along with his wife Annette, his son Mark D. Lerner, daughters Debra Lerner Cohen and Marla Lerner Tanenbaum, his daughter-in-law Judy Lenkin Lerner, and his sons-in-law Edward L. Cohen and Robert K. Tanenbaum are the principal owners of the Washington Nationals. The Lerner family purchased the team from Major League Baseball in July, 2006.

As long-time Washington area residents and proud stewards of the National Pastime in the Nation's Capital, the entire Lerner family is committed to franchise excellence both on the field and off. They have worked closely with the outstanding Nationals staff to ensure that Nationals Park provides the most fan-friendly, accessible and affordable experience available for Washington area families and sports fans. Focused on every aspect of the fan ballpark experience, the Lerner family applies the same dedication to high quality that is the hallmark of their award-winning development of millions of square feet of Washington-area office, hotel, residential and retail properties. As groundbreaking visionaries in environmental development, the Lerner family is committed to building "green." Nationals Park is the first Major League Baseball ballpark to be LEED® Silver Certified by the United States Green Building Council, and features reduced energy consumption, stringent waste management, and effective use of recycled materials.

The Lerner portfolio is comprised of many well known award-winning developments including: 2000 Tower Oaks Boulevard (LEED® Platinum Certification), Rockville, MD; Tysons II, McLean, VA; White Flint North and White Flint Mall, North Bethesda, MD; Washington Square at 1050 Connecticut Avenue, NW and 20 M Street, SE near Nationals Park (LEED® Gold Certification), Washington, D.C.; Dulles Town Center Mall, Residence Inn-Dulles Airport and Dulles 28 Centre, Dulles VA; Greenbelt Marriott, Greenbelt, MD; Fallsgrove Village Center and Fallsgrove Hilton Garden Inn & Homewood Suites, Rockville, MD, among many others. In addition, Lerner is a partner in Chelsea Piers, the 30-acre sports and entertainment complex in New York City. The company has been the recipient of numerous NAIOP and other industry awards in its 60 year history including the 2009 Fairfax County Honor Award for Design Excellence for 1800 Tysons Boulevard in The Corporate Office Centre at Tysons II. Lerner Enterprises is based in Rockville, MD and was voted family business of the year by the Kogod School of Business at The American University in 1999 and in 2008 was named Visionaries of the Year and Most Influential Commercial Real Estate Company in the Washington area by Bisnow Real Estate.

Under Lerner family ownership, Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations and General Manager Mike Rizzo and his experienced scouting and development staff have built a minor league system that Baseball America ranked No. 1 at the end of 2011, up from 30th in the Major Leagues in 2007. Through drafts, acquisitions and trades, the 2013 team has come together and – with veteran manager Davey Johnson's leadership – is expected to contend in the toughest division in the National League.

Through the team's community relations and the Washington Nationals Dream Foundation, and privately through The Annette M. and Theodore N. Lerner Family Foundation, the Lerner family has demonstrated its commitment to the people and neighborhoods of the Washington area. Players and staff are encouraged to be active participants in the team's community outreach and the organization is proud that Nationals players are visiting schools, hospitals and neighborhoods nearly every day of every homestand. In addition to supporting non-profits in the area of Nats Park as part of the Neighborhood Initiative, its work with Boys & Girls Clubs, the Earth Conservation Corps, the Pediatric Diabetes Care Facility at Children's National Medical Center, and its creation of the Washington Nationals Miracle Field, the Dream Foundation has joined with the District to build the Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy – a unique facility that will provide inner city youth with the opportunity to develop their baseball skills while fostering their academic and social development. The Academy expects to open its doors in DC's Ward 7 later this year.

As representatives of the national pastime in the nation's capital, the Lerner family is also proud to honor and support our extensive armed forces and military veterans community. Members of the active and retired military are welcomed and honored at every single Nationals home game, and players often visit vets at both Walter Reed and Bethesda hospitals. The team is continuously finding new ways to make Nationals Park a second home to our servicemen and servicewomen.

Additionally, Lerner family members are privately involved in a wide range of Washington, DC-area community programs and events. Through The Annette M. and Theodore N. Lerner Family Foundation they support many organizations, including The George Washington University; Food and Friends; the Hebrew University of Jerusalem; Hadley's Park; The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts; the Weizmann Institute of Science; the Scleroderma Foundation of Greater Washington; YouthAids; Junior Achievement of the Greater Washington Area; the Jewish Community Centers of Greater Washington and District of Columbia; and Imagination Stage of Bethesda, among many other worthy programs. Ted and his wife Annette are founding members of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, D.C.

Dear Washington Nationals Media and Fans,

We've been counting down the days to the beginning of the 2013 season and expect that you have, too. Last October brought unforgettable moments and left us wishing that Spring would hurry up and get here. None of us will forget our talented young pitching staff or the breakout performances by one after another Nationals hitter. We'll also remember the Natitude in the ballpark every night of the season. We believe this is what Major League Baseball and city leadership envisioned when they returned the game to Washington, D.C.

Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations & General Manager Mike Rizzo, Manager Davey Johnson, all the players and coaches have been chomping at the bit to get back out on the field. With some reinforcing in the off-season, we've brought back our core of players and added some new faces that make the team even stronger.

Rafael Soriano and Dan Haren give our ace pitching staff even more confidence and depth, supporting proven winners like Gio Gonzalez, Jordan Zimmermann, Stephen Strasburg, Ross Detwiler, Tyler Clippard and Drew Storen.

Fan favorites like Jayson Werth, Ryan Zimmerman, Bryce Harper, Ian Desmond, Danny Espinosa, Kurt Suzuki and Adam LaRoche will take the field, ready to play 162 and more. With our experienced veteran manager Johnson back to lead us through one more season, we're prepared to battle again for the most wins in the league and hope to be playing meaningful games into September.

Nationals Park is open for business and ready for fans to fill it with red. President William Howard Taft has been training and is ready to take on the other Racing Presidents in his inaugural season with the team. We expect a great year at the ballpark.

On behalf of team ownership and the Nationals staff, we welcome you to Nationals Park and hope you join us as we embark on what we hope will be the most exciting season yet for the national pastime in the Nation's Capital.

Go Nats!

THEODORE N. LERNER

MANAGING PRINCIPAL OWNER

For a lifelong baseball fan who paid 25 cents to sit in the bleachers at Griffith Stadium to watch the Senators, and worked as an usher in the ballpark as a teenager, owning the Washington Nationals is the realization of a lifetime dream.

Since becoming the managing principal owner of the Nationals on May 3, 2006, Ted Lerner and his family have worked non-stop to build the Nationals into a world-class baseball team in their hometown. Knowing how important baseball is to the Nation's Capitol, Ted Lerner and the Lerner family are dedicated to making the team a winner and the new Nationals Park a success for the fans.

Born and raised in Washington, D.C., Ted Lerner founded Lerner Enterprises in 1952, and it is the largest private real estate development company in the metropolitan Washington, D.C. area. MIKE RIZZO

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT OF BASEBALL OPERATIONS AND GENERAL MANAGER

Mike Rizzo's hiring was the first and most significant addition made by the organization after the Lerner family officially took control of the Nationals franchise in July 2006. His arrival in The District signalled a renewed emphasis on amateur talent and the desire to grow a true organization from the bottom up.

Rizzo was promoted to Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations and General Manager on Oct. 19, 2010. He had previously been appointed Senior Vice President & General Manager on August 20, 2010. Rizzo originally joined the organization as Assistant General Manager and Vice President of Baseball Operations on July 24, 2006.

Armed with an ultimate goal of sustained success, Rizzo rebuilt a minor-league system that was essentially barren dating to the franchise's final years in Montreal. Rizzo stressed scouting and player development excellence by fostering a culture of collaboration while maintaining departmental independence through honest evaluations.

Rizzo's 2012 Nationals led MLB with 98 wins and ended DC's 79-year postseason drought. In 2012, the Nationals led MLB in run differential (+137) and were the only team to record a winning record in every month. Four Nationals earned All-Star status, three won Louisville Slugger Silver Sluggers and another won a Rawlings Gold Glove.

Rizzo—who had a hand in acquiring 21 of the 25 players on Washington's NLDS roster—was fittingly named 2012 MLB Executive of the Year by both the renowned Boston chapter of the BBWAA and the Pitch and Hit Club of Chicago.

Prior to last season, Washington's minor-league system was named the best in baseball per the 2012 Prospect Handbook, which is published annually by industry insider Baseball America. Washington's No. 1 ranking stands in stark contrast to the 2007 season, when the Nationals' system ranked 30th.

This continuing commitment to scouting and player development has yielded layers of talent, allowing Rizzo to acquire hard-throwing lefthander Gio Gonzalez from Oakland in a six-player deal that included a quartet of home-grown prospects. Gonzalez, who signed a contract extension that runs through at least 2016 (club options '17 and '18), dominated in his first season in Washington, finishing 21-8 with a 2.89 ERA.

The 27 year-old Gonzalez joins an impressive haul of 20-somethings either signed, acquired or extended by Rizzo: Tyler Clippard (28 year-old on Opening Day '13), Ross Detwiler (27), Danny Espinosa (25), Bryce Harper (20), Wilson Ramos (25), Anthony Rendon (22), Drew Storen (25), Stephen Strasburg (24), Ryan Zimmerman (28) and Jordan Zimmermann (26).

The depth of the Nationals' 2011 First-Year Draft haul—which featured first-round talents such as infielder Anthony Rendon (sixth overall), right-handed pitcher Alex Meyer (23rd overall), outfielder Brian Goodwin (34th overall) and left-handed pitcher Matt Purke (14th overall in 2009 by Texas)—provided Rizzo the latitude necessary to explore and pull the trigger on trades to acquire Gonzalez and Denard Span.

Rizzo signed the "unsignable" last June in prep righthander Lucas Giolito, who the Nationals drafted 16th-overall in the 2012 First-Year Player Draft. Giolito was viewed by many experts as a prime candidate to be taken first-overall entering '12, but for a firm stance to attend college.

On December 5, 2010, Rizzo signed right fielder Jayson Werth to a monumental seven-year contract that immediately changed the perception of the Nationals, especially within the industry. The Nation's Capital, the Nationals franchise and Nationals Park were collectively and instantly viewed as an attractive destination among players.

RIZZO, MIKE

In November of 2009, Rizzo convinced Davey Johnson, one of the game's great minds, to sign on as Senior Advisor and help revamp the Nationals' on-field operation. Little more than 18 months later, in June of 2011, Rizzo appointed him field manager.

Trades have also had a place in the systematic rebuild, as Rizzo's deft touch has yielded culture-changing deals that netted, among others, Wilson Ramos, Denard Span, Kurt Suzuki, Michael Morse and Sean Burnett.

Thanks largely to pitching, defense and athleticism, Rizzo's Nationals have won at least 10 more games than the season prior each of the last three years (59 wins in 2009, 69 in '10, 80 in '11, 98 in '12). The last team to do this was the Boston Red Sox from 1906-09. Thus, Rizzo's Nationals are the first team in over 100 years to turn this trick without the benefit of an artificially deflated win total associated with a work stoppage.

In the Spring of 2008 as a newly appointed General Manager, Rizzo steadied the Nationals' operation in the Dominican Republic by establishing a one-year alternative complex arrangement, executing a subsequent relocation to Boca Chica and overseeing the construction of a new Nationals training facility.

In Rizzo's initial two-plus seasons in Washington, he participated in all facets of the baseball operation, including but not limited to player acquisitions, contract negotiations, arbitration preparation and player evaluations. He also oversaw Washington's Major League, Professional and International scouting activities. Rizzo's expertise and relationship-building breathed new life into the Nationals' international efforts.

The initial return on Rizzo's affiliation with the Nationals was spectacular, as the Nationals' 2007 First-Year Player Draft—Rizzo's first with the organization—was rated as the best in baseball by Baseball America.

Rizzo joined the Nationals after spending the previous seven seasons with the Arizona Diamondbacks, primarily as Director of Scouting. Following the 2005 campaign, when eight Diamondback players were honored with individual awards and/or designations to their leagues' All-Star teams, Rizzo was promoted to Vice President of Scouting Operations. That same year, the Diamondbacks were named Topps' Organization of the Year.

In 2001, upon being named Arizona's Director of Scouting, the Diamondbacks' minor-league system ranked 29th in baseball according to Baseball America. Five highly successful drafts and a few hundred thousand miles travelled later, Arizona's system was ranked No. 1 in baseball by the same publication entering the 2006 season.

Rizzo earned a World Series ring with Arizona in 2001, but for the Diamondbacks, the fruits of his labor did not end there. Brandon Webb (2006 Cy Young Award winner), Carlos Gonzalez, Chad Tracy, Justin Upton, Stephen Drew, Dan Uggla, Micah Owings, Tony Pena, Mark Reynolds, Conor Jackson, Miguel Montero, Chris Snyder, Carlos Quentin, Max Scherzer and Brett Anderson were signed by Arizona under Rizzo's watch in the scouting department. During his White Sox tenure, Rizzo inked future two-time American League MVP Frank Thomas.

Rizzo, who is entering his 31st season of pro ball, joined the Diamondbacks for their inaugural 1998 campaign. He previously enjoyed stints with the Boston Red Sox (1992-98, area supervisor, international scout and major league advance scout) and Chicago White Sox (1986-92, Midwest and Southeast territorial scout).

Raised in Chicago, Rizzo is a third-generation scout who learned the game from his father, Phillip, who is currently a Senior Advisor with the Nationals, and his grandfather, Vito, who was a semipro player before founding the family business ... scouting.

Rizzo spent four seasons as a minor league infielder in the Angels organization. Upon retiring as a player, he served as an assistant coach at the University of Illinois while earning a Bachelor of Arts in Communications. Rizzo was named 2011 Man of the Year by the Lido Civic Club of Washington, DC.

Clark has been instrumental in overhauling Washington's player development system, stocking the organization with talented prospects and earning recognition from Baseball America as the best minor league system in baseball (2012 Prospect Handbook).

Clark joined the Nationals after an impressive 11-year run as Director of Scouting with the Atlanta Braves. Clark joined the Braves as an area scout in 1989, and he later enjoyed progressive stints as Atlanta's national supervisor (1996-99) and southeast supervisor (1995). While with the Diamondbacks, Rizzo made the first call and filed the first report on University of Kentucky righthander Brandon Webb, who has since won the 2006 NL Cy Young Award and represented Arizona in three All-Star Games.

Phil is also credited with signing, among others, right-handed pitcher Bob Wickman, left-handed pitcher Bob Kipper, catcher Mike Matheny, infielder Dick Schofield and infielder Mark Loretta.

BOB BOONE

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER & VICE PRESIDENT, PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Bob Boone joined the Nationals upon being appointed as Special Assistant to the General Manager on December 11, 2004. He shifted into his current role as Assistant General Manager & Vice President, Player Development during the 2006 season.

Boone has played a vital role in all big league evaluations, both internal and external, and helped "recruit" a new wave of talent to join the Nationals' scouting and player development ranks. His presence has also helped secure Player Development Contracts with Syracuse (Triple-A International League) and Hagerstown (Single-A South Atlantic League), thus compacting Washington's player-development footprint.

One of the premier catchers of his generation, Bob was named to four All-Star teams ('76, '78-79, '83) and won seven Rawlings Gold Gloves ('78-79, '82, '86-89) during his 19-year career. Only Ivan Rodriguez (13) and Johnny Bench (10) have won more Gold Gloves for catching.

Selected by the Phillies as a third baseman out of Stanford University—where he graduated with a degree in psychology—Boone spent the first 10 years of his major league career with Philadelphia (1972-81), which won four division titles and a World Series Championship in 1980. From there, Boone played for Anaheim (1982-88) and Kansas City (1989-90). Upon retirement, he held the major league record for games caught in a career (2225, later broken by Carlton Fisk) and most seasons (15) catching at least 100 games.

In October of 1994, Boone was named manager of the Kansas City Royals, a position he held until July of 1997. Following tenure with Kansas City, Boone joined Cincinnati as a special assistant before serving as manager of the Reds from 2001 until July of 2003.

Bob was born on November 19, 1947 in San Diego, CA and resides in San Marcos, CA with his wife, Sue. Two of their sons played in the big leagues and achieved All-Star status: Bret (three-time All-Star, retired) and Aaron (2003 NL All-Star, retired). Their youngest son, Matt, played six seasons of pro ball after being drafted by the Mariners in the third round of the 1997 First-Year Player Draft.

His father, the late Ray Boone, was an All-Star infielder during his 13-year career in the big leagues (1948-60). Bob's brother, Rodney, played in the Kansas City and Houston farm systems from 1972-75. The Boones are one of only four three-generation baseball families, along with the Bells (Gus, Buddy and David), the Colemans (Joe, Joe and Casey) and the Hairstons (Sam, Jerry Sr. and Jerry Jr.).

CAPITAL PUNISHER

Frank Howard blasted 237 of his 382 career home runs during his seven-year tenure with the the Senators from 1965-71. No player representing Washington has hit more long balls (Roy Sievers is 2nd with 180).

"Hondo" came to D.C. on Dec. 4, 1964 via a seven-player trade with the Dodgers that also netted Ken McMullen, Phil Ortega, Dick Nen and Pete Richert in exchange for John Kennedy, Claude Osteen and $100,000.

A love affair between player and town began almost immediately, as teammates, media and fans alike marveled at Howard's tape-measure home runs, many of which taunted cavernous D.C. Stadium's dimensions.

Howard's 172 homer runs from 1967-70 were the most in MLB in that span, as Hall-of-Famers Harmon Killebrew and Willie McCovey tied for second with just 151.

Howard eventually represented the Senators in four Mid-Summer Classics and led the American League in home runs twice (44 in both 1968 and '70). "The Capital Punisher" also paced the AL in RBI (126) and walks (132) in 1970.

CAREER

Big, physical, hard-throwing righthander looks to return to form and to DC after July 2011 surgery on right shoulder...in strange 3-day twist of transactions, was claimed off waivers by TOR on Nov. 16, 2011 only to be (re)claimed by the Nationals just 2 days later, on Nov. 18...including 12-game stint with Washington, has fanned 9.5 batters per 9.0 innings as a professional...in 4 years since converting exclusively to relief in 2009, has struck out 10.4 batters per 9.0 innings.

2012

Spent majority of '12 in rehab mode, but returned to the mound in late June...pitched in 6 games at 4 levels in Washington's chain, posting a 6.35 ERA...from there, participated in the Florida Instructional League and the Arizona Fall League (4.80 ERA in 11 games with Scottsdale).

2011

Pitched well in first action at the big league level, but had season cut short by a shoulder injury...underwent season-ending right rotator cuff surgery on July 13...the procedure was performed by Dr. David Altchek at Hospital for Special Surgery in New York, NY...began the season in Syracuse before earning a promotion to the big leagues on May 14...earned first big league win with 1.0 scoreless inning, May 16 vs. PIT, but also suffered blown save by allowing inherited runner to score...offered scoreless relief in 10 of 12 appearances with Washington...before the May 14 promotion to the big leagues, went 1-0 with 5 saves and did not allow a run in 13.2 innings with Triple-A Syracuse.

2010

Enjoyed finest campaign as a pro, yet, going a combined 8-1 with 18 saves and a 2.17 ERA in 57 appearances with Harrisburg of the Double-A Eastern League and Potomac of the Single-A Carolina League...posted 101 strikeouts in 78.2 innings of work, an average of 11.6 strikeouts per 9.0 innings...selected as a Nationals' affiliate Pitcher of the Month an organizational-best 3 times (Potomac – April, Harrisburg – June & August)... following season, posted an impressive 0.75 ERA and struck out 15 in 12.0 innings for Scottsdale in the Arizona Fall League...pitching in front of a MLB Network audience, protected a 3-2 lead and earned the save in AFL Championship Game on November 20.

2009

After making 45 starts during first 3 seasons as a pro, pitched exclusively in relief during '09 campaign…spent entire season with Potomac, appearing in 37 games…posted one hold and 9 saves (2nd among P-Nats).

2008

In lone season with Hagerstown of the Single-A South Atlantic League, ranked 4th among Washington minor league pitchers with 122 strikeouts.

2007

Pitched in 14 games/13 starts with Vermont of the Short-season Single-A New York-Penn League…for first time, flashed power arm via 74 strikeouts in 64.1 innings.

2006

Allowed only 3 home runs in 34.0 innings spanning 16 appearances/5 starts with Vermont in first action as a pro.

PERSONAL

Cole A. Kimball...is a Centenary (NJ) College alum...in 2 years at Centenary, he went 11-9 with a 3.70 ERA, striking out 139 in 136.1 innings... ranks 3rd in Centenary history in strikeouts and 4th in ERA...while there, helped the Cyclones reach the Division III Final 4 in 2006...is a graduate of Hackettstown (NJ) High.

THE CATCH

Who made the most famous catch in the history of the World Series? Some might reference Willie Mays' over-the-shoulder catch in '54, but when considering intrigue, it is tough to top Sam Rice's catch in Game 3 of the 1925 World Series against the Pirates.

On Oct. 10, 1925, Rice (HOF '63) was patrolling Griffith Stadium's right field for the AL Nationals. In the 8th inning, Rice made a dynamic catch of a would-be Earl Smith game-tying home run. Upon making the catch, Rice toppled over the fence and disappeared from sight. When Rice reappeared and showed the ball, umpires ruled that the catch had been made on the field of play and that Smith was out.

After the game, Rice was coy about his heroic catch. He later turned down numerous requests for interview, some for money. Rice never disclosed any information about the catch. Instead, he wrote a letter that was opened only after his death in 1974. The contents of the letter said, "At no time did I lose possession of the ball." Washington eventually lost the Series, however, in seven games.

INFIELD FLY RULE

MLB's Infield Fly Rule (rule 2.00 in the Official Baseball Rules):

An INFIELD FLY is a fair fly ball (not including a line drive nor an attempted bunt) which can be caught by an infielder with ordinary effort, when first and second, or first, second and third bases are occupied, before two are out. The pitcher, catcher and any outfielder who stations himself in the infield on the play shall be considered infielders for the purpose of this rule.

When it seems apparent that a batted ball will be an Infield Fly, the umpire shall immediately declare "Infield Fly" for the benefit of the runners. If the ball is near the baselines, the umpire shall declare "Infield Fly, if Fair."

The ball is alive and runners may advance at the risk of the ball being caught, or retouch and advance after the ball is touched, the same as on any fly ball. If the hit becomes a foul ball, it is treated the same as any foul.

If a declared Infield Fly is allowed to fall untouched to the ground, and bounces foul before passing first or third base, it is a foul ball. If a declared Infield Fly falls untouched to the ground outside the baseline, and bounces fair before passing first or third base, it is an Infield Fly.

Rule 2.00 (Infield Fly) Comment: On the infield fly rule the umpire is to rule whether the ball could ordinarily have been handled by an infielder—not by some arbitrary limitation such as the grass, or the base lines. The umpire must rule also that a ball is an infield fly, even if handled by an outfielder, if, in the umpire's judgment, the ball could have been as easily handled by an infielder. The infield fly is in no sense to be considered an appeal play. The umpire's judgment must govern, and the decision should be made immediately.

When an infield fly rule is called, runners may advance at their own risk. If on an infield fly rule, the infielder intentionally drops a fair ball, the ball remains in play despite the provisions of Rule 6.05(l). The infield fly rule takes precedence.

'12 USO TOUR

In December 2012, Nationals pitchers Ross Detwiler and Craig Stammen, as well as Nationals Vice President of Communications Lara Potter, joined Washington Capitals forward Matt Hendricks, critically-acclaimed country music singer Kellie Pickler and comedian/CBS "Excused" host Iliza Shlesinger on the 2012 USO holiday tour led by the 18th Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff General Martin Dempsey.

General Dempsey led the group on a seven-day, four-country tour to military venues in Bahrain, Kyrgyzstan, Afghanistan, and Germany.

In all, the group travelled more than 18,000 miles to meet and raise the spirits of thousands of U.S. servicemen and women stationed in Germany and the Middle East.

On Dec. 13, General Dempsey told a group of sailors on the USS John C. Stennis that, "all of the stars with me, whom I consider my friends, have been nothing short of delightful. It is clear they genuinely care and support our nation's troops and that our men and women in uniform are grateful for their visit. The holidays are a time of sharing and we accomplished that with this trip."

NAME GAME

At a ceremony held Nov. 22, 2004 in the historical Main Hall at Union Station, (then) team president Tony Tavares announced the new Washington MLB franchise will be named the Washington Nationals and the team's color scheme would consist of red, white and blue.

The Nationals moniker had previously served two other Washington baseball franchises. A team called the Nationals first played in the District during the 1870s and 1880s, and second American League team played at Griffith Stadium from 1901 until 1956. Owner Calvin Griffith then officially changed Washington's name to Senators for the 1957 season.

The name was selected based on an evaluation of a myriad of factors, including data collected through local focus groups and other forms of research.

CAREER

One of MLB's top attractions...tall (6-foot-4) and powerful (200 lbs.) righthander is best known for unique blend of velocity, power and control... possesses full health after return from Sept. 3, 2010 right elbow surgery...enters '13 with a 16-7 record and a 2.95 ERA (55 ER/180.1 IP) in 33 starts since return from right elbow surgery...when provided 2+ of offensive support while in game, Washington is 26-4...has allowed one earned run or less in 24 of 44 career starts (53%)...was considered by many experts to be the top draft-eligible amateur player the last 25 years...following MLB debut on June 8, 2010 vs. PIT, donated game hat and game ball (ball hit for first out recorded, an Andrew McCutchen lineout to SS) to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, NY.

2012

Displayed excellence by going 15-6 in first complete big league campaign...paced MLB in average fastball velocity (95.7mph)...allowed one or less earned run 13 times...earned Louisville Slugger Silver Slugger Award for pitchers...at the plate, paced all MLB pitchers in doubles and on-base percentage (.333)...also blasted first home run of career into visitor's bullpen during 9-3 victory on May 20 vs. BAL (off Wei-Yin Chen)...on the mound, ranked among NL leaders in K/9.0 (first, 11.2), strikeouts (tied 2nd, 195), wins (tied 4th, 15), ERA (6th, 2.94), quality starts (tied 5th, 20), K/BB ratio (tied 5th, 4.3/1), WHIP (7th, 1.12) and double-digit strikeout games (2nd, 5)...pitched well (7.0 innings, one run, no-decision) in first Opening Day start of career, April 5 at CHI (W2-1)...earned the win and tallied the game-winning RBI by tossed 6.0 scoreless innings and snapping a scoreless tie with a 2-out RBI single in the 5th inning in an eventual 4-0 victory, July 15 at MIA...with full health intact, made final start, Sept. 7 vs. MIA... the following day, was alerted by Mike Rizzo and Davey Johnson that he would not pitch again in '12...finished '12 having tossed 159.1 innings.

2011

Went 1-1 with a 1.50 ERA in 5 starts for Washington in long-anticipated return from Sept. 3, 2010 "Tommy John" surgery...fanned 24 and walking just 2 in 24.0 innings...did not allow a homer...only 2 of 15 hits allowed went for extra-bases (both doubles)...threw just 13.7 pitches per inning... capped 2011 by fanning a season-high 10 in 6.0 scoreless innings to earn the victory as Washington won, 3-1, on Sept. 28 in final MLB contest at Sun Life Stadium...joined the Nationals after making 6 rehab starts from Aug. 7-Sept. 1 for 4 different Nationals affiliates (Syracuse-1, Harrisburg-1, Potomac-1, Hagerstown-3)...in those 6 starts, went 1-1 with a 3.54 ERA (8 ER/20.1 IP), walking 3 and striking out 29.

2010

Took MLB by storm with stellar 12-start rookie campaign, but saw season end prematurely after leaving Aug. 21 start at PHI with what was later revealed as a torn ulnar-collateral ligament in the right elbow...had right elbow repaired by Dr. Lewis Yocum in Los Angeles, CA on Sept. 3...began rehab program less than a week post surgery...allowed 2 or less runs in 9 of 12 starts with Washington...registered as many or more strikeouts than innings pitched in 11 of 12 starts, with the exception being a 4-K, 4.1-inning effort on Aug. 10 vs. FLA...fanned 12.2 batters per 9.0 innings (SFG's Tim Lincecum paced qualified MLB pitchers at 9.8)...struck out 33.6 percent of batters faced (92 of 274), tops among MLB starting pitchers (TOR's Brandon Morrow ranked 2nd at 28.3%)...with the entire MLB community watching, made MLB debut in a 5-2 win on June 8 vs. PIT...the debut came one day shy of the one-year anniversary of being drafted first-overall by the Nationals...struck out 14 Pirates in 7.0 dazzling/dominant innings...in that start, became only the 2nd pitcher since '87 (the year STATS, Inc. began charting pitches) to fan 14-plus and throw less than 100 pitches in a game (on April 9, 2003 at Wrigley Field, MON's Javier Vazquez struck out 14 in 7.0 innings and required just 96 pitches)...only 2 pitchers ever struck out more in an MLB debut: both HOU's J.R. Richard (Sept. 5, 1971 at SFG) and BRK's Karl Spooner (Sept. 22, 1954 vs. NYG) fanned 15...by striking out the final 7 Pirates faced, became just the 2nd player to fan 7 straight batters in an MLB debut (BAL's Sammy Stewart did so on Sept. 1, 1978 vs. CWS)...with 14 K's in 7.0 walkless innings, became just the 4th rookie to fan 14 or more in a single game and not issue a walk...the other 3 were Roger Clemens (16 SO, Aug. 21, 1984 vs. KCR), Dwight Gooden (16 K on Sept. 12, 1984 vs. PIT & Sept. 17, 1984 at PHI) and Kerry Wood (20 K, May 6, 1998 vs. HOU)...went 7-2 with a 1.43 ERA in 11 starts for the Nationals' top 2 affiliates and allowed just one home run (Rene Rivera, May 26 vs. Scranton/W-B).

Professional: Didn't pitch in the Nationals system after signing on Aug. 16 at 11:58:43 pm (77 seconds before deadline)...after signing, worked out in DC and around the Nationals for the better part of a month...gained first pro exposure during the Nationals' 2009 Instructional League...in 5 AFL starts, went 4-1 with a 4.26 ERA...walked 7 and struck out 23 in 19.0 AFL innings (3.3/1 K-to-BB ratio, 10.9 K's per 9.0 innings)...was to start AFL Championship game on Nov. 21, but suffered freakish knee injury during the Phoenix Desert Dogs batting practice on November 19...one day later, a precautionary exam performed today by Dr. Lewis Yocum in Los Angeles revealed patellar subluxation in the left knee...the injury's treatment included rest and physical therapy, but did not require surgery.

SDSU: 2009 recipient of both the Golden Spikes Award and the Dick Howser Trophy...posted 13 double-digit strikeout totals...worked scoreless ball 7 times in 15 starts...regular season and conference-tournament efforts—SDSU went 14-0 when pitching—were largely responsible for the Aztecs securing their first NCAA Regional berth since 1991...went 13-1 with a 1.32 ERA (16 ER/109.0 IP) in 15 starts as a junior for Tony Gwynn's Aztecs...fanned an NCAA-best 195 in 109.0 innings as a junior, or 16.1 K's per 9.0 innings (tops in NCAA), en route to a 10.3/1 strikeout-to-walk ratio...did not issue more than 2 walks in any game, and walked one or fewer batters in 10 of 15 starting assignments...on May 8, in front of capacity crowd at Tony Gwynn Stadium, struck out 17 while no-hitting Air Force.

CAREER

Top-of-the-rotation talent is coming off best season of career and looks to take the next step...is 3.5 years post-Tommy John surgery (see below)... since return from Aug. '09 "Tommy John" surgery, is 21-21 with a 3.20 ERA in 65 starts (Washington is 37-28 in those starts)...Nationals' 2008 Minor League Pitcher of the Year...as the 67th overall selection in the 2007 First-Year Player Draft out of the Division III University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, is a classic small-school success story...was selected with 2nd of 2 compensatory picks granted as Alfonso Soriano signed with CHI as a free agent in November of 2006...has been taxed for 2 earned runs or less in 65 percent (53 of 81 starts) of big league starts...is just 2-3, but owns a 1.99 ERA in 11 career interleague starts...14 of 24 career wins have come prior to the All-Star break.

2012

Turned in finest campaign to date...reached 30-start plateau for the first time...went 5-0 with a 3.64 ERA in final 11 starts at Nationals Park... last lost a game in DC on May 17 vs. PIT...led all qualified MLB pitchers in batting average against (.163) with runners in scoring position...ranked among NL leaders in quality starts (tied 4th, 24), ERA (7th, 2.94) and walks per 9.0 (8th, 2.0)...induced 18 GIDPs after tallying only 13 in first 3 MLB campaigns...24 quality starts matched Esteban Loaiza (2005) for the most posted by a Nationals starter since team relocated to DC...went 8-3 with a 2.14 ERA in 18 starts when pitching on regular rest, as opposed to 4-5 with a 4.06 ERA in 14 starts on extra rest.

2011

Went 8-11 with a stellar 3.18 ERA in 26 starts for the Nationals in healthy and encouraging return from Tommy John surgery in Aug. 2009...did not pitch in Sept. as the Nationals sought to limit inning tally for 2011...ranked among NL leaders in fewest walks per 9.0 innings (3rd, 1.7) and ERA (10th, 3.18)...threw an economical 15.3 pitches per inning (entered '11 averaging 17.4 for career)...was stingy with the long ball, allowing just 12 home runs in 161.1 innings (tied 5th in NL among those to make at least 25 starts)...run support average of 3.01 runs per 9.0 innings (runs only count while in the game) was the 2nd-lowest in the NL (Tim Lincecum, 2.94)...in 7 no-decisions (Washington went 5-2), posted a 2.53 ERA, thrice left in line for a win (July 31 vs. NYM, June 24 at CWS, May 12 at ATL), allowed zero runs thrice (July 31 vs. NYM, June 24 at CWS, June 23 at SDP) and fanned 10.1 per 9.0 innings...notched 11 straight quality starts, May 1-June 26, to set a new Nationals club record (Livan Hernandez posted 10 straight in '05)...16 quality starts doubled career total (8 in 23 starting assignments) entering 2011...at 2.66, posted the best pre All-Star break ERA in the 7-year history of the Nationals (previous mark: John Patterson, 2.91 in '05)...in 2nd inning on May 6 at FLA, struck out the side (Mike Stanton, Greg Dobbs, John Buck) on 9 pitches...in doing so, became the first Nationals pitcher to turn the feat...went the distance for the first time, requiring just 93 pitches, but suffered tough-luck 1-0 loss on June 29 at LAA, as the Halos scrapped across an unearned run.

2010

Returned to the Nationals and to health after having ligament-replacement surgery in August of 2009...upon return, was just 12-plus months post-surgery and was met with a pitch-count and game-by-game innings limit...allowed one earned run or less in 4 of 7 starting assignments... posted 7.8 strikeouts per 9.0 innings pitched and a 2.7/1 strikeout-to-walk ratio...pitched well on the road thanks to a 3.60 ERA, 9.0 K's per 9.0 innings and a .232 batting average against...spun 6.0 innings of one-hit scoreless ball, walking none and fanning a career-best 9 in an Aug. 31 no-decision at FLA...notched lone win of the season on Sept. 24 vs. ATL, allowing one run in 5.0 innings in Washington's 8-3 victory...on road back to DC, went 1-2 with a 1.59 ERA in 10 minor-league starts...in those 10 starts or 39.2 innings, posted a 5.2/1 strikeout-to-walk ratio, struck out 7.0 per 9.0 innings and posted a .193 batting average against.

2009

Flashed immense promise going 3-5 with a 4.63 ERA in 16 starts with the Nationals, but had season cut short by elbow injuries...had season-ending surgery to repair the right-elbow UCL on August 19...the procedure was performed by Dr. Lewis Yocum in Los Angeles, CA on August 19...was the first true rookie to enter a season in Washington's rotation since Matt Chico in 2007...earned the win in first 2 starts, April 20 vs. ATL and April 26 at NYM...thus, became the first franchise (exclusive) starting pitcher to garner the win in initial 2 big league starts since Randy Johnson did the same for the Expos in 1988 (in 2006, Beltran Perez did the same, but sandwiched around 5 relief appearances)...was touched for 2 runs or less in 6 of final 8 starts...in 91.1 innings, posted a 3.2/1 strikeout-to-walk ratio which would have ranked 14th in the NL with enough innings to qualify... would've also ranked 9th in the NL with 9.07 K's per 9.0 with enough innings to qualify...dominated AL's best offensive club in a 9-3 victory, June 25 vs. BOS...allowed one run on 5 Red Sox hits in 7.0 innings, walking one and striking out 6 to secure 3rd win.

BASEBALL RETURNS TO THE NATION'S CAPITAL - 2004

On Wednesday, September 29, 2004, Major League Baseball selected the Washington, D.C. proposal as its choice for relocation of the Montreal Expos. Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig made the announcement. Relocation of the club was subject to certain contingencies, including a formal vote of ownership at the next owners' meeting in November and passage of legislation by the District of Columbia Council to provide for financing and construction of a ballpark on the Anacostia River waterfront in Southeast Washington. MLB also provided the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida the required notice of MLB's intent to move forward with relocating the team.

The D.C. agreement also included financing for the refurbishing of RFK Stadium, where the Washington, D.C. franchise played through the 2007 campaign.

"Washington, D.C., as our nation's capital, is one of the world's most important cities and Major League Baseball is gratified at the skill and perseverance shown by (then) Mayor Williams throughout this long process," Selig said. "There has been tremendous growth in the Washington, D.C. area over the last 33 years and we in Major League Baseball believe that baseball will be welcomed there and will be a great success."

Selig also said: "I would like to thank the representatives who worked on behalf of Northern Virginia, Norfolk, VA, Las Vegas, Portland, OR, Monterrey, Mexico and others for devoting so much time and energy in their attempts to bring a Major League Baseball team to their communities."

At the time, Washington, D.C. was the largest market in the country in terms of population (5.4 million) and television market size (eighth) without a Major League Baseball team.

Even though Washington, D.C. baseball has a long history with the American League, the team plays in the National League East Division, which in fact marks its return to its baseball roots. The first Washington, D.C. franchise joined the National League in 1886 and was part of the NL, except for a two-year hiatus in 1890-91, until the National League contracted Washington and three other franchises in 1900.

But a year later, Ban Johnson organized the American League and included Washington, D.C. as one of its charter franchises. Although the original Senators were mostly mediocre throughout their history, they fielded one of the game's greatest all-time pitchers, Walter "Big Train" Johnson and made three trips to the World Series, winning it in 1924 in a seven-game series against the New York Giants. In 1925, the Senators lost in seven games to Pittsburgh and lost in five games to the Giants in 1933.

The second incarnation of the Senators came in 1961 in the form of an expansion team. Like its predecessor, the Senators often finished in the second division and had only one winning season in their 11-year history. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. was without Major League Baseball until 2005.

THE HISTORY OF BASEBALL IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

When the first professional baseball games were played in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., the enduring symbol of freedom in America - the Statue of Liberty - was still two years away from being dedicated. There were 38 states in the Union and what would become the State of Oklahoma had yet to be settled. More than seven decades had passed since Washington, D.C. became the capital of the United States and baseball was quickly evolving into the National Pastime.

A Washington team was admitted to the National League in 1885 and played during the League's 10th professional season in 1886. Washington played 12 years in the National League - 1886-89 and 1892-99 - but was part of a four-team contraction in 1900 as the National League went from 12 franchises to eight.

Later that same year, former Western League president Ban Johnson was organizing a second Major League to compete with the National League and announced plans to include a franchise in the nation's capital. The new League was called the American League and began play in 1901.

This Washington franchise was awarded to James Manning and Detroit businessman Fred Postal. Manning retired later that year and Tom Loftus replaced him as the club's primary executive. The Senators finished in sixth place in 1901 with a 61-72 mark and would eventually be sold to an ownership group including Thomas C. Noyes, Benjamin Minor and Harry Rapley, among others.

The first of two individual tragedies struck the organization in only its third season as the Senators lost a key figure when future Hall of Fame outfielder Ed Delahanty was tragically killed in July 1903 when he was swept over Niagara Falls. Delahanty was the reigning American League batting champion and his sudden death took its toll on the team as the Senators finished the campaign with a 43-94 mark.

Effective for the 1905 campaign, the team name was changed to Nationals. Newspaper accounts use the names Senators and Nationals interchangeably for the next five decades.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

While it took 12 years before the Nationals finished a season with a winning record, the signing of 20 year-old pitcher Walter Johnson in 1907 would signify a key moment in the franchise's history. Under first-year manager, Clark Griffith, the 1912 Washington Club posted a 91-61 mark and ended up in second place, 14 games behind the eventual World Champion Boston Red Sox.

Johnson appeared in a remarkable 50 games that year - 37 as a starter - and went 33-12 with a league-leading 1.39 ERA and 303 strikeouts. The following year he was even better as he led the Nationals to their second consecutive 90-win season. "Big Train" went 36-7 with 11 shutouts and a 1.14 ERA, which still stands today as one of the lowest ERAs by a starting pitcher in a single season.

In 1912, 40 year-old team president Thomas C. Noyes fell ill to pneumonia and eventually succumbed to the disease. Noyes had been instrumental in the franchise's improvements since he took over and was replaced as team president by Minor, a prominent Washington attorney. Minor, unable to devote the necessary time to the club, subsequently sold the controlling interest to Griffith and Philadelphia businessman William Richardson in 1919.

Following a 75-78 season in 1923, Griffith made a controversial decision by appointing 27 year-old second baseman Stanley "Bucky" Harris as field manager. Harris was the fifth manager in the previous five seasons for the Nationals, but he guided one of the great reversals in baseball history as the Nationals in 1924 won more games than ever before, 92, and captured their first American League pennant.

In the 1924 World Series, the Nationals took on famed manager John McGraw and the New York Giants. The Series was one of the closest in history as four games were decided by a single run, including the deciding Game Seven. On the strength of Walter Johnson's four innings of relief pitching - on two days' rest - and the Series clinching hit by Earl McNeeley in the bottom of the 12th inning, the Nationals won their first and only World Series Championship.

United States President Calvin Coolidge, who threw out the ceremonial first pitch on three occasions during the Series, paid tribute to the hometown victors immediately following the victory:

"I have only the heartiest praise to bestow upon the individual players of both teams. Naturally, in Washington, we were pleased to see Walter Johnson finish the final game, pitching for our home team. Everybody was pleased to see him come back at the close of the last game. The three contests I witnessed maintained throughout a high degree of skill, and every evidence of high-class sportsmanship which will bring to every observer an increased respect and confidence in our national game."

The following year, Harris once again led the Nationals to a record regular season finish as they posted 96 wins and clinched a second-straight American League pennant. Their second trip to the World Series was just as close but this time they came up short in a seven-game Series to the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Senators had a 7-6 lead entering the bottom of the eighth in Game Seven, but could not hold it as the Pirates scored three runs in the inning off Johnson and held on to clinch the Series victory.

Johnson concluded his amazing 21-year playing career with Nationals in 1927 with career totals of 417-279, a 2.36 ERA, 3,508 strikeouts and a big league-record 110 shutouts. He was among the first class of inductees into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, in 1936.

The "Big Train" was not gone from the Washington scene long as Griffith brought him back to replace Harris as the Nationals' manager in 1929. Despite posting three straight 90-win seasons, Johnson was removed from his post after the 1932 season and replaced by Joe Cronin, the team's 26 year-old shortstop.

Cronin's first season with the Nationals produced the franchise's best regular season mark ever at 99-53 and its third American League pennant. Washington again faced the New York Giants in the Fall Classic but fell in five games to a team led by the pitching of Carl Hubbell (20 IP, 0 ER) and the hitting of Mel Ott, who clinched the Series for New York with a 10th-inning homer in Game Five.

The Nationals franchise then fell on hard times. Washington won just 66 games in '34 and the team posted only two more winning seasons the next 25 years. The team name was officially changed to Senators for the '56 campaign.

Calvin Griffith, who became team president after his father's death in 1955, was granted permission to seek relocation in Sept. 1960, and an announcement was made in Oct. 1960 that the Senators were being moved to Minneapolis, MN.

At that time, the American League announced plans to expand by two teams for the 1961 season. One team would be located in Los Angeles and the other in Washington, D.C.
The expansion Senators fared no better than their predecessors, as they lost at least 100 games in each of their first four seasons. In 1964, the Senators acquired five players in a deal with the Los Angeles Dodgers for pitcher Claude Osteen. One of those five players was slugging outfielder and the 1960 National League Rookie of the Year, Frank Howard.

An imposing presence at 6-7, 250 lbs., Howard brought a much-needed offensive punch to the Senators lineup and the Senators win total increased in each of his first three seasons in Washington. After struggling again in 1968, new team president Robert Short brought in Hall of Fame outfielder Ted Williams as the new manager of the Senators.

EXPANSION SENATORS

An expansion draft was conducted in Boston on December 10, 1960 and the Senators selected the following players at $75,000 each:

PITCHERS	CATCHERS	INFIELDERS	OUTFIELDERS
Pete Burnside	Pete Daley	Chester Boak	Joe Hicks
Dick Donovan	Dutch Dotterer	Bob Johnson	Chuck Hinton
Rudy Hernandez	Gene Green	Billy Klaus	Marty Keough
Ed Hobaugh		Dale Long	Jim King
Johhny Klippstein		Jim Mahoney	Willie Tasby
Hector Maestri		John Schaive	Gene Woodling
Carl Mathias		Coot Veal
Bobby Shantz		Bud Zipfel
Dave Sisler
Tom Sturdivant
Hal Woodeshick

Howard and his teammates responded to the "Splendid Splinter" during his rookie managerial campaign as Washington's win total improved 21 games to 86 in 1969. It was also Howard's best year in the Majors, as he batted .296 with 48 home runs, 111 RBI and 111 runs scored and finished fourth in the balloting for American League Most Valuable Player.

Unfortunately, the team was unable to build upon their success in '69. The Senators lost 92 games in '70 and 96 in '71. On Sept. 21, 1971, owners approved the transfer of the Senators to Arlington, TX, where it became the Texas Rangers.

After 71 years in the American League and nearly 100 since the debut of professional baseball in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., hosted its "final" regular season on September 30, 1971 at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. was without Major League Baseball until 2005.

WASHINGTON, D.C. BALLPARKS

Pro baseball teams were formed in our nation's capital beginning in the early 1870s and those franchises played their games in ballparks commonly known as Swampoodle Grounds, Capitol Grounds and Boundary Field.

In 1892, the Washington Senators joined the expanding National League and began playing their home games at a site that would host professional baseball games into the early 1960s. From 1892-99, the Senators played at National Park, which had a seating capacity of approximately 6,500. Although never finishing above sixth place, the team drew fairly well, including more than 200,000 fans in 1896.

When the National League contracted from 12 franchises to eight following the 1899 season, the team was disbanded. However, it would only be two seasons before a professional team occupied that site again.

During those 2 years, former Western League president Ban Johnson was working to put together a 2nd Major League to rival the NL. In 1901, the American League began play with 8 franchises, including the Washington Nationals.

This franchise would play its home games on the same site as the previous National League Washington team, but the ballpark was appropriately renamed, American League Base Ball Park and the capacity was expanded to nearly 10,000.

On March 17, 1911, tragedy struck the American League Base Ball Park. The all-wooden ballpark and four surrounding buildings were completely destroyed by a fire started by a plumber's blow lamp and a strong wind. American League Base Ball Park could not be saved as plumbers working on the park's drain pipes had shut off the water supply and by the time fire fighters arrived, the grand stand and bleachers were engulfed in flames. At the time, the loss of the ballpark was estimated at $20,000.

Thomas C. Noyes, president of the Washington franchise, gained approval from the Board of Directors to announce that work would begin immediately on a new ballpark with a steel grandstand. With the players at Spring Training and Opening Day less than a month away, crews worked tirelessly to get the ballpark ready for the home opener.

By Opening Day 1911, the grandstands were sufficiently erected for the Nationals to host the Boston Red Sox with President William Howard Taft in attendance. The work on the ballpark continued when the team was on the road and was completed on July 24, 1911 at a final cost of approximately $100,000. Seating capacity was more than 27,000, including a presidential box near the first base dugout.

In 1920, the American League Base Ball Park was renamed Griffith Stadium in recognition of the franchise's owner and president, Clark Griffith. The only major alteration to the ballpark was also made in 1920 as the double-decked stands were extended from the bases to the foul poles.

During the late-1930s and 1940s, Griffith Stadium had another part-time tenant - the famed Homestead Grays of the Negro Leagues. Originally from Pennsylvania, the Grays played half of their games at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh and half at Griffith Stadium when the Washington franchise was on the road. Some of the most revered players in Negro League history played for the Grays, including Josh Gibson, Buck Leonard, Cool Papa Bell and Sam Bankhead, as they won nine Negro League championships.

Griffith Stadium, which also hosted the Major League Baseball All-Star Game in 1937 and 1956 and three World Series in 1924, 1925 and 1933, remained the home of the Washington franchise until it was moved to Minneapolis following the 1960 season.

The expansion Washington Senators played their inaugural season at Griffith Stadium in 1961 before moving into District of Columbia Stadium for the 1962 season.

After having been the site of professional baseball in Washington, DC, since 1892, the final game at Griffith Stadium was played on Sept. 21, 1961 as the Senators fell to Minnesota, 4-3, before a crowd of 1,498 fans. Griffith Stadium was demolished in 1965 and is now utilized by Howard University. Nearly 1,000 of the original seats from Griffith Stadium were moved to a Spring Training facility near Orlando, Fla., Tinker Field. Those seats remain there today.

A federally-owned stadium, District of Columbia Stadium was a new three-tiered, multi-purpose facility constructed near the Potomac River at a cost of approximately $24 million. The Senators signed a 10-year lease on September 29, 1961 with the D.C. Armory Board for the stadium, which had a seating capacity of 45,016.

On April 9, 1962, the Senators played their first regular season game at District of Columbia Stadium. A crowd of 42,143 - including President John F. Kennedy — saw Senators pitcher Bennie Daniels defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4-1. Interestingly enough, Daniels suffered the loss at both the final game at Ebbets Field in 1957 and the final game at Griffith Stadium in 1961.

Under the direction of the D.C. Armory Board, the stadium was officially renamed Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium on January 18, 1969.

The 1969 Major League Baseball All-Star Game was the fourth hosted by the Senators and the second at RFK Stadium (also first game in 1962). Despite the American League dropping a 9-3 decision to the National League, Washington fans saw future Hall of Famer Willie McCovey hit a pair of homers and hometown favorite Frank Howard hit one as well.

In 1971, the Senators played their final season at RFK Stadium before moving to Arlington, Texas. The final regular season Major League Baseball game was played at RFK on September 30, 1971. Washington hosted the New York Yankees before a crowd of just 14,460 in a game that was never finished. The Senators were holding on to a 7-5 lead with two outs in the top of the ninth inning when fans rushed the field. The umpiring crew could not clear the field and the game was forfeited to the Yankees, 9-0.

RFK Stadium hosted 16 exhibition games involving Major League teams after the Senators moved in 1971. A portion of the proceeds from most of the games was donated to various charities. Attendance at the 16 contests averaged more than 27,600 per game. Following is a listing of those games:

On March 14, 2006, Washington, DC Mayor Anthony Williams, the D.C. Sports & Entertainment Commission and the Washington Nationals unveiled plans for a 41,000-seat state-of-the-art baseball stadium located in Southeast DC. Seven weeks later, on May 4, ground was officially broken on the ballpark site. Washington opended Nationals Park on March 30, 2008 with a 3-2 win over ATL, televised nationally on ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball. President George W. Bush threw the ceremonial first pitch, then Ryan Zimmerman led the club to victory with a game-ending solo shot in the 9th inning.

THE TRADITION OF OPENING DAY IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Each Major League Club has its own unique celebration to mark the opening of the Major League Baseball season, but Opening Day in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., was always a special and sometimes historic event. Washington, D.C.'s Opening Day tradition dates to April 14, 1910. William Howard Taft, the 27th President of the United States, attended the home opener of the Washington Senators against the Philadelphia Athletics. Numerous other government officials, including Vice President James Sherman, joined President Taft at the ballpark.

An overflow crowd of 12,000 fans—the largest baseball crowd in Washington at that time—gave President Taft an standing ovation as he made his way to his seats on the first-base side. Team president Thomas C. Noyes then took the 2 managers—Washington's Jimmy McAleer and Philadelphia's legendary Connie Mack—to meet the President.

Just prior to the start of the game, umpire Billy Evans walked over to President Taft's box and presented him with a new baseball. Evans instructed President Taft that he was to throw the ball from his seat in the stands to Senators pitcher Walter Johnson, who was standing at home plate, to officially commence the start of the American League championship season. After giving the ball briefly to First Lady Helen Taft, the President adjusted his gloves and made a good throw to Johnson, who immediately gave the ball to catcher Charles Street to have it secured in a safe place.

President Taft watched the entire game, a 3-0 Washington victory in which Johnson hurled a one-hit, complete-game shutout. After the game, Johnson sent the historic ball to the White House accompanied by a note to President Taft asking for his autograph on the ball. President Taft returned the ball after penning the following on it:

"For Walter Johnson, with the hope that he may continue to be as formidable as in yesterday's game. William H. Taft."

Although President Taft was the first to throw out a ceremonial first pitch, it was not the first time a President of the United States attended a Major League Baseball game. Benjamin Harrison, the 23rd U.S. President, is believed to be the first sitting President to attend a Major League game when he witnessed a NL game between Cincinnati and Washington in June 1892. That wasn't even the first interaction with a professional baseball team as nine years earlier President Chester A. Arthur welcomed the Cleveland franchise of the National League to the White House.

Having the President throw out the ceremonial first pitch at Washington's home opener was such an enormous success—not only in the nation's capital but around the country—that it led to the American League granting Washington permission to open the American League championship season one day before the rest of the League. This action was approved on December 13, 1927, in recognition of the U.S. President throwing out the ceremonial first pitch.

Including President Taft's precedent-setting throw in 1910, 12 different Presidents have attended a home opener of the Washington Senators a total of 48 times. The Senators posted a 23-23 mark in home openers with a President present.

President Taft (2-0) and Woodrow Wilson (3-0), the 28th U.S. President, were the only two to never see the Senators lose. The only U.S. Presidents never to see Washington win a home opener were Lyndon Johnson (0-3) and Richard Nixon (0-2). Following is the breakdown of Washington's record on Opening Day, listed by President:

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES	WASHINGTON'S RECORD ON OPENING DAY
Woodrow Wilson (D)	3-0 (1.000)
William Howard Taft (R)	2-0 (1.000)
George W. Bush (R)	2-0 (1.000)
Calvin Coolidge (R)	3-1 (.750)
Warren Harding (R)	2-1 (.667)
Dwight Eisenhower (R)	4-3 (.571)
Barack Obama (D)	0-1 (.000)
Franklin Roosevelt (D)	4-4 (.500)
Harry Truman (D)	3-4 (.429)
John F. Kennedy (D)	1-2 (.333)
Herbert Hoover (R)	1-3 (.250)
Richard Nixon (R)	0-2 (.000)
Lyndon Johnson (D)	0-3 (.000)
TOTAL	25-24 (.510) | Democrats 11-14 (.440), Republicans 14-10 (.583)

Prior to the Senators move to Texas in 1972, each President since Taft was in attendance for a Washington Senators home opener at least once. Several Presidents had to miss on occasion, including President Taft in 1914 because of the sinking of the Titanic and President Wilson in 1918 and 1919 because of World War I.

Since 1972, the tradition of Presidents and Opening Day has continued in other Major League cities. The only President to never throw out a ceremonial first pitch at an Opening Day game was Jimmy Carter. President George W. Bush threw out the ceremonial first pitch at RFK Stadium on April 14, 2005 to usher the return of baseball to the nation's capitol, then again to open Nationals Park on March 30, 2008. President Barack Obama continued the tradition on April 5, 2010, throwing out the first pitch prior to the Nationals' season opener vs. PHI.

WASHINGTON, DC AND THE WORLD SERIES

Washington, DC has hosted three World Series, with the original Washington (AL) Nationals claiming the 1924 World Championship. Washington needed seven games to top the favored New York Giants, a club that was appearing in its 8th World Series in 14 seasons and was managed by John McGraw. The Nationals won despite Walter Johnson losing each of his first 2 starts. However, Washington won, 4-3, in 12 innings as Johnson came out of the 'pen to earn the win in Game 7. The 1924 World Series remains the 2nd of only 4 World Series to be decided in extra innings of the decisive 7th game.

The Washington (AL) Nationals would go on to play in two more Fall Classics, losing both. As defending World Champions in 1925, the Nationals won 92 games and claimed another AL Pennant, but lost to Pittsburgh in 7 games. The Pirates topped the Nationals, 9-7, in Game 7 as Walter Johnson squandered a 4-0 lead after the first inning and eventually suffered the loss. The New York Giants provided payback for the '24 Series by claiming the 1933 World Series over the AL Nationals in 5 games.

THE HISTORY OF THE MONTREAL EXPOS (1969-2004)

The city of Montreal had a long association with professional baseball even before it was awarded a Major League franchise in 1968. On April 18, 1946, the Montreal Royals, a minor league affiliate of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the International League, secured their place in baseball history when Jackie Robinson made his professional debut and became the first African-American to play professional baseball in the 20th Century.

More than two decades later as the National League was seeking to expand by two franchises, former Montreal city councillor Gerry Snyder presented the city's formal bid during an owners' meeting in Mexico City, Mexico. Six months later on May 27, 1968, it was announced that Major League Baseball was expanding outside the United States for the first time as Montreal was awarded a National League franchise to begin play in 1969.

Despite some early concerns about the team's financing, Montreal met its initial deposit deadline and officially became a member of the National League on August 14, 1968. Charles Bronfman, a distillery magnate and an original investor, was named chairman with Paul Beaudry and Lorne Webster as vice-chairmen. John McHale was named president and chief executive officer, while Jim Fanning was appointed the team's first general manager.

On September 5, 1968, the Montreal franchise named Gene Mauch field manager. Mauch was returning to familiar ground as he played two seasons for the minor league Montreal Royals in 1943 and 1944. McHale also announced that the team would be known as the Expos, in recognition of Expos 67, an international exhibition that attracted 50 million visitors to the city in 1967.

Only five days later, pitcher Dave Hartman became the first player to sign a contract with the Expos. Hartman never actually played for the Expos or made it to the Major Leagues. However, an expansion draft was conducted on October 14, 1968 and the Expos selected the following 30 players:

Manny Mota, Mack Jones, John Bateman, Gary Sutherland, John Billingham, Donn Clendenon, Jesus Alou, Mike Wegener, Skip Guinn, Bill Stoneman, Maury Wills, Larry Jackson, Bob Reynolds, Dan McGinn, Jose Herrera, Jim Williams, Angel Hermoso, Jim Grant, Jerry Robertson, Don Shaw, Ty Cline, Garry Jestadt, Carl Morton, Larry Jaster, Ernest McAnally, Jim Fairey, Jose Laboy, John Boccabella, Rob Brand and John Glass.

The Expos' first home ballpark was Jarry Park, a converted minor league stadium named after former councillor Raoul Jarry in 1927. Jarry Park's initial capacity was 3,000, but was expanded to 28,450 as the ballpark met MLB standards.

Montreal made its National League debut on April 8, 1969 at Shea Stadium in New York against one of the National League's last expansion teams, the Mets. The Expos held off a furious 9th inning rally to claim an 11-10 victory. Pitcher Dan McGinn hit the first home run in franchise history, a solo shot off future Hall of Famer Tom Seaver in the 4th inning.

Jarry Park hosted its first regular season game six days later as 29,814 fans witnessed Major League Baseball in Canada for the first time. Despite facing a St. Louis Cardinals lineup that featured names such as Lou Brock, Curt Flood, Dal Maxvill and Joe Torre, the Expos treated their fans to an 8-7 win.

One of the highlights of the inaugural season came on April 17 at Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia. Bill Stoneman, later a general manager of the Anaheim Angels, pitched the franchise's first no-hitter in defeating the Phillies, 7-0. The Expos would go on to finish the season with a 52-110 mark.

The following season saw Montreal improve by 21 games under Mauch. 26 year-old pitcher Carl Morton went 18-11 with a 3.26 ERA en route to being named 1970 NL Rookie of the Year. In 1973, the Expos made their first pennant chase as they won 79 games and were in the race for the National League East title until the last weekend of the season.

After a few disappointing seasons, the Expos in 1977 moved into Olympic Stadium, which was the main venue for the 1976 Olympic Games. A crowd of 57,592 fans attended the first game at The Big O as the Expos fell to the Phillies, 7-2.

Montreal begun to form the nucleus of a team that would bring home its first NL East title with players such as Ellis Valentine, Andre Dawson, Warren Cromartie, Gary Carter and Steve Rogers. The Expos won 95 games in 1979 only to fall two games shy of the title and was again in the pennant race until the final game of the season 1980.

In '81, the Expos finally cleared the hurdle as they won the NL East's second half title in a season shortened by a players' strike. In a best-of-5 Divisional Series, Montreal topped first-half champion Philadelphia, three games to two, and advanced to its first NLCS.

The NLCS against Tommy Lasorda's Los Angeles Dodgers went down to the ninth inning of the fifth and deciding game. With the game tied at 1-1, Dodgers outfielder Rick Monday hit a two-out solo homer off Rogers. The Expos put two runners on in the bottom of the ninth, but could not tie the score as Los Angeles advanced to the World Series.

In 1982, Montreal hosted the first Major League Baseball All-Star Game to be held outside of the United States. The National League won its 11th consecutive Midsummer Classic on the strength of a home run by Cincinnati's Dave Concepcion. Five players represented the Expos on the NL squad: Carter, Rogers, Dawson, Tim Raines and Al Oliver.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

Montreal remained competitive throughout much of the next decade, including 91 wins in 1987 by a team led by Raines, Andres Galarraga, Hubie Brooks and Tim Wallach.

Bronfman sold the franchise to team president Claude Brochu on June 14, 1991. The next season Brochu appointed long-time Montreal coach Felipe Alou as field manager. Alou guided the Expos to 87 victories and a second place finish in his first year at the helm and then improved upon that with 94 wins in 1993.

The 1994 season saw a core group of players such as Larry Walker, Marquis Grissom, Moises Alou, Pedro Martinez, Ken Hill and John Wetteland storm out to a 74-40 mark - the best in the Major Leagues - and a six-game lead in the newly-formed National League East on August 11. However, the season was never completed. A players' strike began the following day that would wipe out the remainder of the 1994 schedule.

After the changing economics of the baseball landscape forced the Expos to trade some of those core players, the '95 team finished in last place in the NL East. It was only the second time since '77 that Montreal finished in last place.

Two years later, Martinez continued to establish himself as one of the top starting pitchers in the Major Leagues. He posted a 17-8 record with a 1.90 ERA, 305 strikeouts and 13 complete games en route to being the first Expos' pitcher to win the National League Cy Young Award. That winter, Martinez was traded to the Boston Red Sox.

The 1998 season was marked by stellar individual performances on the field and uncertainty off the field. 22 year-old outfielder Vladimir Guerrero displayed his immense talent by setting six Montreal records, including the club single season home run mark. Also, 24 year-old closer Ugueth Urbina recorded 34 saves with a 1.30 ERA, and Alou became the franchise's most successful manager with his 521st victory on August 19.

Off the field, Brochu continued to struggle in an attempt to finalize funding for a new downtown ballpark and announced his willingness to sell his shares of the franchise. In 1999, Jeffrey Loria was officially approved as the Expos controlling person following a buy-back of Brochu's shares. In February 2002, Major League Baseball approved the sale of the Florida Marlins to Loria and the sale of the Expos to Major League Baseball and the 29 other Major League Clubs. A new Expos senior management team was announced: Tony Tavares (president), Omar Minaya (general manager) and Hall of Famer Frank Robinson (field manager). Baseball Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig also announced the formation of a relocation committee to seek a permanent home for the franchise.

The 2003 and 2004 seasons saw the Expos make baseball history by playing a portion of their home schedule at Hiram Bithorn Stadium in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Fans in Puerto Rico celebrated the return of Major League Baseball to the island country. The Expos drew nearly 530,000 fans and posted a 20-23 mark over their 43 games played at Hiram Bithorn Stadium during the two-season trial. On September 29, 2004, Commissioner Selig announced the formal approval of the relocation of the Expos franchise to the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., for the 2005 season.

NATIONALS PARK RING OF HONOR

On August 10, 2010, the Washington Nationals unveiled their Ring of Honor at Nationals Park, honoring baseball Hall of Famers with distinct ties to Washington's baseball heritage. The display, located above the PNC Diamond Club and directly behind home plate, features Hall of Famers from the Washington Nationals, Washington Senators, Homestead Grays and Montreal Expos.

The Nationals partnered with the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, NY to develop the following criteria to honor Hall of Famers: The player had to be elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame. The player had to have played with the Washington Nationals, Washington Senators, Homestead Grays or Montreal Expos. The player had to have played significant years with those teams. The following 18 baseball legends comprise the current Ring of Honor:

James "Cool Papa" Bell
Grays Center Fielder (1932, 1943-46)

HISTORY AND RECORDS

POSTSEASON HISTORY (WASHINGTON / EXPOS / NATIONALS)

1924 The AL Nationals claim their first of 3 AL pennants and lone World Championship. The AL Nationals finished the regular season with a 92-62 (.597) mark and 2.0-game lead over the second-place Yankees (89-63). The AL Nationals won a memorable 7-game World Series over the heavily-favored New York Giants, who were competing in their 8th Fall Classic in 14 seasons. The series is best remembered for Game 7. The Giants led, 3-1, in the 8th, but Freddie Lindstrom's critical error on a routine grounder allowed the AL Nationals to send the game to extra innings. Washington won, 4-3, in 12 innings with Walter Johnson earning the win with 4.0 scoreless innings of relief. Earl McNeely's RBI double with one out in the 12th plated Muddy Reul, who had doubled earlier in the decisive inning that included a pair of Giants errors. While pitching in a starting role, Walter Johnson took the loss in both Games 1 and Game 5. Three of Washington's 4 wins in the Fall Classic were of the one-run variety. The 1924 World Series remains one of only 4 World Series to be decided in extra innings of the decisive 7th game.

1925 As defending World Champions in 1925, the AL Nationals won 92 games and claimed another AL flag, but lost to Pittsburgh in a 7-Game Fall Classic. The Pirates topped the Nationals, 9-7, in Game 7 as Walter Johnson and the AL Nationals squandered a 4-0 first-inning lead and eventually suffered the loss. In Game 3, Sam Rice made the most intriguing catch in World Series history. Rice was patrolling Griffith Stadium's right field for the AL Nationals when, in the 8th inning, he made a dynamic catch of a would-be Earl Smith game-tying homer. Rice toppled over the fence in doing so and disappeared from sight. When Rice reappeared and showed the ball, umpires ruled he had successfully made the catch. Following the game, Rice was coy about the catch and penned a letter that was opened only after his death in 1974. The letter simply said, "at no time did I lose possession of the ball."

1933 The '33 AL Nationals earned Washington's most-recent post-season berth, going an MLB-best 99-53 (.651) and claiming the AL Championship by 7.0 games over the 91-win Yankees. Washington's pitching staff included a pair of 20-game winners: General Crowder (24 wins), Earl Whitehill (22). However, the heavily-favored AL Nationals struggled offensively in the Fall Classic, plating 2 runs or less thrice and hitting a collective .214 with just 2 home runs in 5 games. Mel Ott's solo shot in the top of the 10th snapped a 3-3 tie as the Giants claimed both Game 5 and the World Championship.

1981 In a season marred by 6-plus week labor stoppage, the Montreal Expos record a 30-23 (.566) mark in the season's second half to earn Montreal's lone post-season berth in 36 National League seasons. The Expos finished 0.5-game ahead of the Cardinals in the second-half standings (Montreal played one extra game). Montreal matched up against the Phillies in the NLDS and won a decisive Game 5 as Steve Rogers tossed a 6-hit shutout to outperform Steve Carlton for the second time in the series. The Expos' dreams of hosting the first World Series games outside of the United States were dashed, however, as Rick Monday hit a 9th-inning solo shot off Rogers to provide the Dodgers a 2-1 win in Game 5 of the NLCS. To this day, October 19 is still referred to as "Blue Monday" in Montreal.

2012 Eight years after landing in DC, the Washington Nationals claimed their first postseason berth by winning the NL East with a 98-64 record. En route to posting the 98 victories and the best winning percentage (.605) in MLB, the Nationals became the first baseball team representing the Nation's Capital to reach the postseason since the AL Nationals won the American League pennant in 1933. In the NLDS, the Nationals squared off against the defending World Champion Cardinals, who survived MLB's first one-game Wild Card playoff game at Turner Field thanks to a controversial infield fly ruling. Washington stole Game 1 thanks to rookie Tyler Moore's 2-run pinch single, which erased a 2-1 deficit with 2 outs in the 8th inning. The October-tested Cardinals rebounded in Games 2 and 3 with resounding victories. Game 4 rendered one of the great postseason in DC history when, with the game tied 1-1, Jayson Werth led off the bottom of the 9th with a game-ending homer that came on the 13th pitch of his epic at-bat. The collective euphoria following Werth's bolt evaporated just 24 hours later as the Nationals squandered 6-0 (after 3 innings) and 7-5 (after 8 innings) leads before losing the decisive contest, 9-7.

WELCOME TO NATIONALS PARK

Located in the heart of the Nation's Capital, Nationals Park redefines modern sports facility architecture and serves as a cornerstone of the new mixed-use Capitol Riverfront, adjacent to the Navy Yard in Southeast Washington.

INNOVATIVE ARCHITECTURE UNIQUE TO WASHINGTON D.C.

From South Capitol Street, the ballpark presents a monumental façade of architectural pre-cast concrete, metal and glass, with features consistent with the traditions of D.C.'s most notable civic buildings.

Nationals Park can easily be accessed by fans, especially those arriving from the north via the Navy Yard Metro Station or on foot from nearby offices and residential neighborhoods.

Fans enter through Center Field Plaza and continue along the main concourse, which sweeps around the entire ballpark and affords an almost complete 360-degree open view of the playing field.

The seating bowl wraps around the various levels of the facility in a circular expression of steel and concrete, offering openness and panoramic views of the Anacostia waterfront, Navy Yard and landmarks such as the Capitol and the Washington Monument.

CUTTING-EDGE FAN EXPERIENCE

Nationals Park is equipped with advanced high-definition audio-visual technology, including a 4,800 square foot high-definition scoreboard, as well as more than 600 linear feet of LED ribbon board along the inner bowl fascia.

The ballpark also features a variety of entertainment and fan-interactive activities, food service venues, retail operations and family friendly entertainment to ensure a compelling and engaging gameday experience.

With a fully functioning meeting and conference center, four large club spaces, luxurious suites and spectacular views, Nationals Park is the ideal backdrop for any kind of corporate or personal event imaginable.

GREEN DESIGN

As the first major sports facility in the U.S. to earn the LEED-certified Silver designation by the U.S. Green Building Council, Nationals Park is considered one of the most environmentally friendly ballparks in the country. The facility incorporates a variety of sustainable design elements, including:

A SUSTAINABLE SITE

- Located near the Anacostia River, Nationals Park is categorized as a brownfield redevelopment and is intended to serve as a catalyst for urban revitalization in the area.
- The ballpark's location is easily accessible to public transportation, including access to nearby metro stations and local bus routes.

USE OF MATERIALS

- Water-conserving plumbing fixtures are used throughout the facility, reducing overall water consumption.
- Energy-saving light fixtures help reduce light pollution and results in a projected 21 percent energy savings over typical field lighting.
- Content of building materials used on the project contain a minimum of 10 percent recycled content.
- Many of the building materials used on the project were produced regionally, which cut down on transportation costs while promoting the local economy.
- Interior materials including adhesives, carpet glues and paints were specified with low VOC contents.
- Roof materials offer a high degree of reflectance, minimizing the amount of heat released to the environment. A 6,300 square foot green roof above the concession area beyond left field also minimizes roof heat gain.

AN INTRICATE GROUND AND STORMWATER FILTRATION SYSTEM

- Because Nationals Park is within close proximity to the Anacostia River, much care was taken to treat storm and ground water runoff.
- The result is a unique, intricate water filtration system that separates water used for cleaning the ballpark from rainwater falling on the ballpark and treats both sources of water before it is released to the sanitary and stormwater systems.

NATIONALS PARK

NATIONALS PARK: QUICK FACTS

Opening Date:	March 30, 2008
Designed By:	The joint venture team of Populous (former HOK Sport) and Devrouax-Purnell Architects
2013 Seat Capacity:	41,418
Field Dimensions:	Left Field - 336 Feet
	Center Field - 402 Feet
	Right Field - 335 Feet

Playing Surface:

- The field is a blend of Kentucky Bluegrass. Varieties are Midnight Star, Moonlight and Princeton 105.
- The infield dirt is provided by DuraEdge, based out of Slippery Rock, Pa.
- The warning track is a crushed Red Lava Stone that is mined from New Mexico.
- The rootzone for the turf consists of 90% sand and 10% silt/clay
- Drainage lines are installed in pea gravel and are made of six inch polyethylene pipe and run every 12 feet. These smaller pipes drain into a 24 inch mainline pipe before entering the site's sand filtration system.

Interesting Ballpark Facts:

- Inspiration for the look of the ballpark was taken from the East Wing of the National Gallery of Art, which was designed by architect I. M. Pei.
- Because the field is 24-feet below street level, more than half of the crowd will walk straight off the street, onto the main concourse and into their seats, without ever using elevators or climbing ramps or stairs.
- Populous (formerly HOK Sport), the ballpark's designer, borrowed the inspiration for an odd, right-angled jog into the left center-field fence from the now demolished Griffith Stadium, former home of the Washington Senators.

Sections and pricing subject to day-of-game and market-based change. Seating based on availability.
*Day-of-game purchases ONLY. Purchases can be made at the Nationals Park Box Office after gates have opened. ONE TICKET PER PERSON. MUST BE PRESENT AT TIME OF PUCHASE. Upon purchasing Grandstand seating, fans must immediately enter the park.

MASN (MID-ATLANTIC SPORTS NETWORK)

MASN, the television home of the Washington Nationals, is an independent regional sports network that televises every available Nationals game. Owned by the Nationals and the Baltimore Orioles, the network gives fans exclusive access to action on the field and inside the game. For the 3rd consecutive year, Bob Carpenter and F.P. Santangelo will return to the broadcast booth to provide fans play-by-play and color analysis during MASN's Nationals telecasts.

Before every game, MASN televises the Nationals exclusive pregame show, Nats Xtra, during which hosts Johnny Holliday and Ray Knight offer engaging insight and analysis about the upcoming matchup. After each game, MASN televises the Nats Xtra post-game show, featuring game highlights, player interviews and the manager's press conference.

All of MASN's cable, satellite and fiber optic distributors carry MASN and MASN2 on a consistent channel throughout the season and most providers also carry MASN HD and MASN2 HD. Visit www.masnsports.com for local listings.

MASN's television territory covers all or parts of six states and the District of Columbia, from Harrisburg, PA., to Charlotte, N.C. The network is carried by most cable and satellite providers in the mid-Atlantic region. For more information, visit www.masnsports.com.

BOB CARPENTER

Bob Carpenter enters his 8th season with MASN and the Nationals and his 30th in Major League Baseball. He came to Washington in 2006 after 10 years on TV and radio with the St. Louis Cardinals and 16 seasons of MLB on ESPN. During the off-season, Bob handles basketball play-by-play for the University of Oklahoma and Oral Roberts University. The St. Louis native debuted in 1984 with Cardinals baseball on the Sportstime Cable Network, then returned in '95 on KPLR-TV and KMOX Radio. He has been nominated for 4 St. Louis/Mid-America Emmys, winning twice (1996 and '97), and a National Capital/Chesapeake Bay Emmy in 2008 for his Nationals play-by-play. Carpenter also appeared on TV in the '80s and '90s with Texas, New York (NL) and Minnesota. One of sports broadcasting's busiest announcers, Bob worked MLB, college basketball and college football during 18 seasons of play-by-play with ESPN from 1988-2005. He has broadcast baseball playoffs, Triple-A All-Star Games, NCAA and NIT Basketball Tournaments and College Football bowl games. His studio work included College Gameday and College Football Scoreboard shows. During his tenure with ESPN, Carpenter was paired with former major leaguers Buck Martinez, Joe Morgan, Jim Palmer, Ray Knight, Jerry Reuss, Frank Viola and many others. On the basketball side, he worked with Dick Vitale, Bill Raftery, Larry Conley, Jim Valvano among others. Carpenter announced the 2005 NCAA Basketball Final Four in his hometown of St. Louis for NCAA International TV, one of his 7 NCAA tournaments. Prior to ESPN, Bob handled a variety of sports for USA Network, including college basketball and football, PGA Golf (including The Masters) and professional tennis (including the U.S. Open). Bob announced numerous soccer events at RFK Stadium, starting as the TV voice of Team America in 1983, and also worked several matches during the 1994 World Cup. Carpenter began his broadcasting career in 1976 as baseball play-by-play announcer with the Tulsa Oilers. Carpenter earned a Radio-TV-Film degree with honors from the University of Missouri-Kansas City in 1975. Bob and Debbie, his wife of 33 years, have 2 daughters, Katie and Allison.

F.P. SANTANGELO

F.P. Santangelo returns for his 3rd season broadcasting Nationals games on MASN, working alongside play-by-play veteran Bob Carpenter. Prior to joining MASN in 2011, he earned broadcast experience announcing San Francisco Giants games on CSN Bay Area and the Giants Radio Network, as well as hosting radio talk shows on San Francisco's KNBR-680 AM and Sacramento's KHTK-1140 AM. Santangelo played parts of 7 seasons in the big leagues with the Expos, Giants, Dodgers and A's during his 14-year professional career. He batted .245 with 87 doubles, 14 triples, 21 homers, 162 RBI and 37 stolen bases in 665 MLB games and appeared in one post-season with Oakland in 2001. Primarily an outfielder, he played 6 different positions during his career. Santangelo played under Nationals manager Davey Johnson in 2000 (LAD). He was selected by the Expos in the 20th round of the 1989 First-Year Player Draft, and finished 4th in NL Rookie of the Year voting in 1996. Santangelo played collegiately at Sacramento City College and the University of Miami, after graduating from Oak Ridge High School in El Dorado Hills, Calif.

WASHINGTON NATIONALS ON THE RADIO

For the 3rd consecutive season, 106.7 The Fan will serve as the official flagship radio station for Nationals baseball. CBS RADIO owns and operates 106.7 The Fan, which broadcasts select Nationals Spring Training games, as well as regular-season and postseason games this season. Charlie Slowes and Dave Jageler are back in the booth once again, marking their 8th consecutive season together as Nationals radio broadcasters. Slowes has been with the Nationals since the club's inaugural campaign in 2005, while Jageler joined him behind the mic in '06.

As part of their agreement, 106.7 The Fan will broadcast a variety of Nationals-related programs, including daily reports from Nationals Spring Training, pre- and post-game shows, and Nationals programs twice a week throughout the season.

The station will also operate a studio set at Nationals Park for pregame and post-game coverage as well as special live broadcasts of its local sports talk shows. 106.7 The Fan broadcasts an exciting lineup of local sports talk shows including The Sports Junkies, the Holden Kushner/Danny Rouhier Show and the Lavar Arrington Show with Chad Dukes.

CHARLIE SLOWES

Charlie Slowes joined the Nationals on February 24, 2005, prior to their inaugural season, and it did not take long for his trademark "Bang Zoom go the Fireworks" and "A Curly 'W' is in the Books" tag lines after Nationals victories to become part of Beltway lexicon. The 2013 season marks the 16th consecutive year and 20th overall calling Major League Baseball for Slowes, the original play-by-play voice of the Nationals. His post with the Nationals was a return to the Washington, DC area for Charlie, who became the Radio Voice of the Washington Bullets in 1986 at just 25 years of age. He went on to broadcast Bullets game for 11 seasons (1986-87 to 1996-97), the longest run in franchise history until eclipsed by his successor and current Wizards' voice Dave Johnson. Included in that time were 2 years of TV-radio simulcasts. Slowes made the switch to Major League Baseball full-time, becoming an original voice of the expansion Tampa Bay Devil Rays in 1998, calling Rays games for their first 7 seasons. Slowes is among the many, including Hall-of-Fame Ford Frick Award winner, Vin Scully, to enter sports broadcasting after graduating from Fordham University in New York, also having honed his craft on Fordham's 50,000-watt blowtorch, WFUV 90.7 FM. Shortly after graduation, Charlie's first career break was with KMOX Radio in St. Louis, where for 3 years (1984-86), he was exposed to the likes of broadcasting greats Bob Costas and the late Jack Buck. Slowes worked in a variety of on-air functions for broadcasts of St. Louis Cardinals Baseball, St. Louis Cardinals Football, St. Louis Blues Hockey and St. Louis University Basketball play-by-play, as well as sportscasts and sports talk shows. Charlie broadcast Tidewater Tides (NY Mets affiliate) Triple-A baseball on TV and radio for parts of 4 seasons from 1986-92. He has also broadcast at the national network level with NBC-TV and CBS Radio for their MLB Game of the Week. Slowes has also called baseball on the radio for the Baltimore Orioles on WBAL (1989-1990) and the New York Mets on WFAN (1988, 1991). He's dabbled in bowling and boxing for ESPN and MISL soccer (play-by-play with New York Arrows in 1983) in 2-plus decades as a play-by-play broadcaster. During the 2007-2008 off-season, Slowes returned courtside for some college basketball play-by-play, filling in on the University of South Florida-ISP Sports Network. During the Nationals 2012 season, he also joined MLB Network's afternoon TV show, "The Rundown," reporting on the Nationals' first NL East Division Championship chase. Charlie, his wife, Tina, and sons, Jim (4/6/94) and Alex (10/11/97), split time between homes in Alexandria, VA and Palm Harbor, FL.

DAVE JAGELER

Jageler enters his 8th season with the Nationals after spending the 2005 campaign as the radio and TV voice of the Pawtucket Red Sox of the Triple-A International League. Jageler joined Gary Cohen, Don Orsillo, Dave Flemming and Andy Freed as Pawtucket products who have graduated to the major leagues in recent years. In the offseason, Jageler can be seen on MASN, calling play-by-play of Atlantic-10 and Big East basketball. Prior to joining Pawtucket, Jageler worked in Boston co-hosting an afternoon talk show and serving in various capacities with the Boston Celtics radio network, including fill in play-by-play. Jageler spent 6 years in Charlotte as the voice of UNC-Charlotte basketball and co-hosting a morning drive talk show. While in Charlotte, he built his baseball resume with the Triple-A Charlotte Knights in the '95, '96 and '01 seasons doing play-by-play. Jageler's voice was also heard in DC, as he served as a host on the Virginia Tech Sports Network during the 1993-94 basketball season. He has also served as the studio host for Westwood One's NHL Game of the Week, the Florida State and Texas Longhorns football networks and has done fill-in play-by-play for both the Seminoles and Longhorns. The Windsor, CT native is a graduate of Syracuse University's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, where he began his play-by-play career broadcasting Syracuse football and basketball games on WAER and baseball for the Triple-A Syracuse Chiefs on Time Warner Cable and Empire Sports Network. Dave and his wife, Jennifer, have 2 children, Jared (13) and Sarah (9).
